

IFSG Committee Agreement

While each of our committees serves a unique function, they all share the same basic criteria for participation.

- Committee members must be active Red Ribbon Professional or Professional members of the IFSG.
- Being a committee member means making a commitment to participate in committee calls and projects.
- Committee members must listen to the opinions and suggestions of other committee members from a place of compassion and non-judgment.
- Committee members must be willing, when necessary, to re-align with the energy and direction of the committee should the committee or board direction differ from their own.
- All projects and discussions within each committee are confidential in nature. No information gained from participation within a committee may be used for personal or professional gain that would compromise the integrity of the IFSG or any of its members.

I agree that as a condition of my participation as a member of a committee within the International Feng Shui Guild that:

1. I will adhere to all committee guidelines.
2. I will not reuse, reproduce, replicate or disclose in any fashion any information or materials that have come to me in the course of my participation that would compromise the integrity of the IFSG or any of its members.

This agreement must be signed prior to working on any IFSG committees. Digital agreement and consent is available and accepted as binding.
